Blank ladder · 4 lines

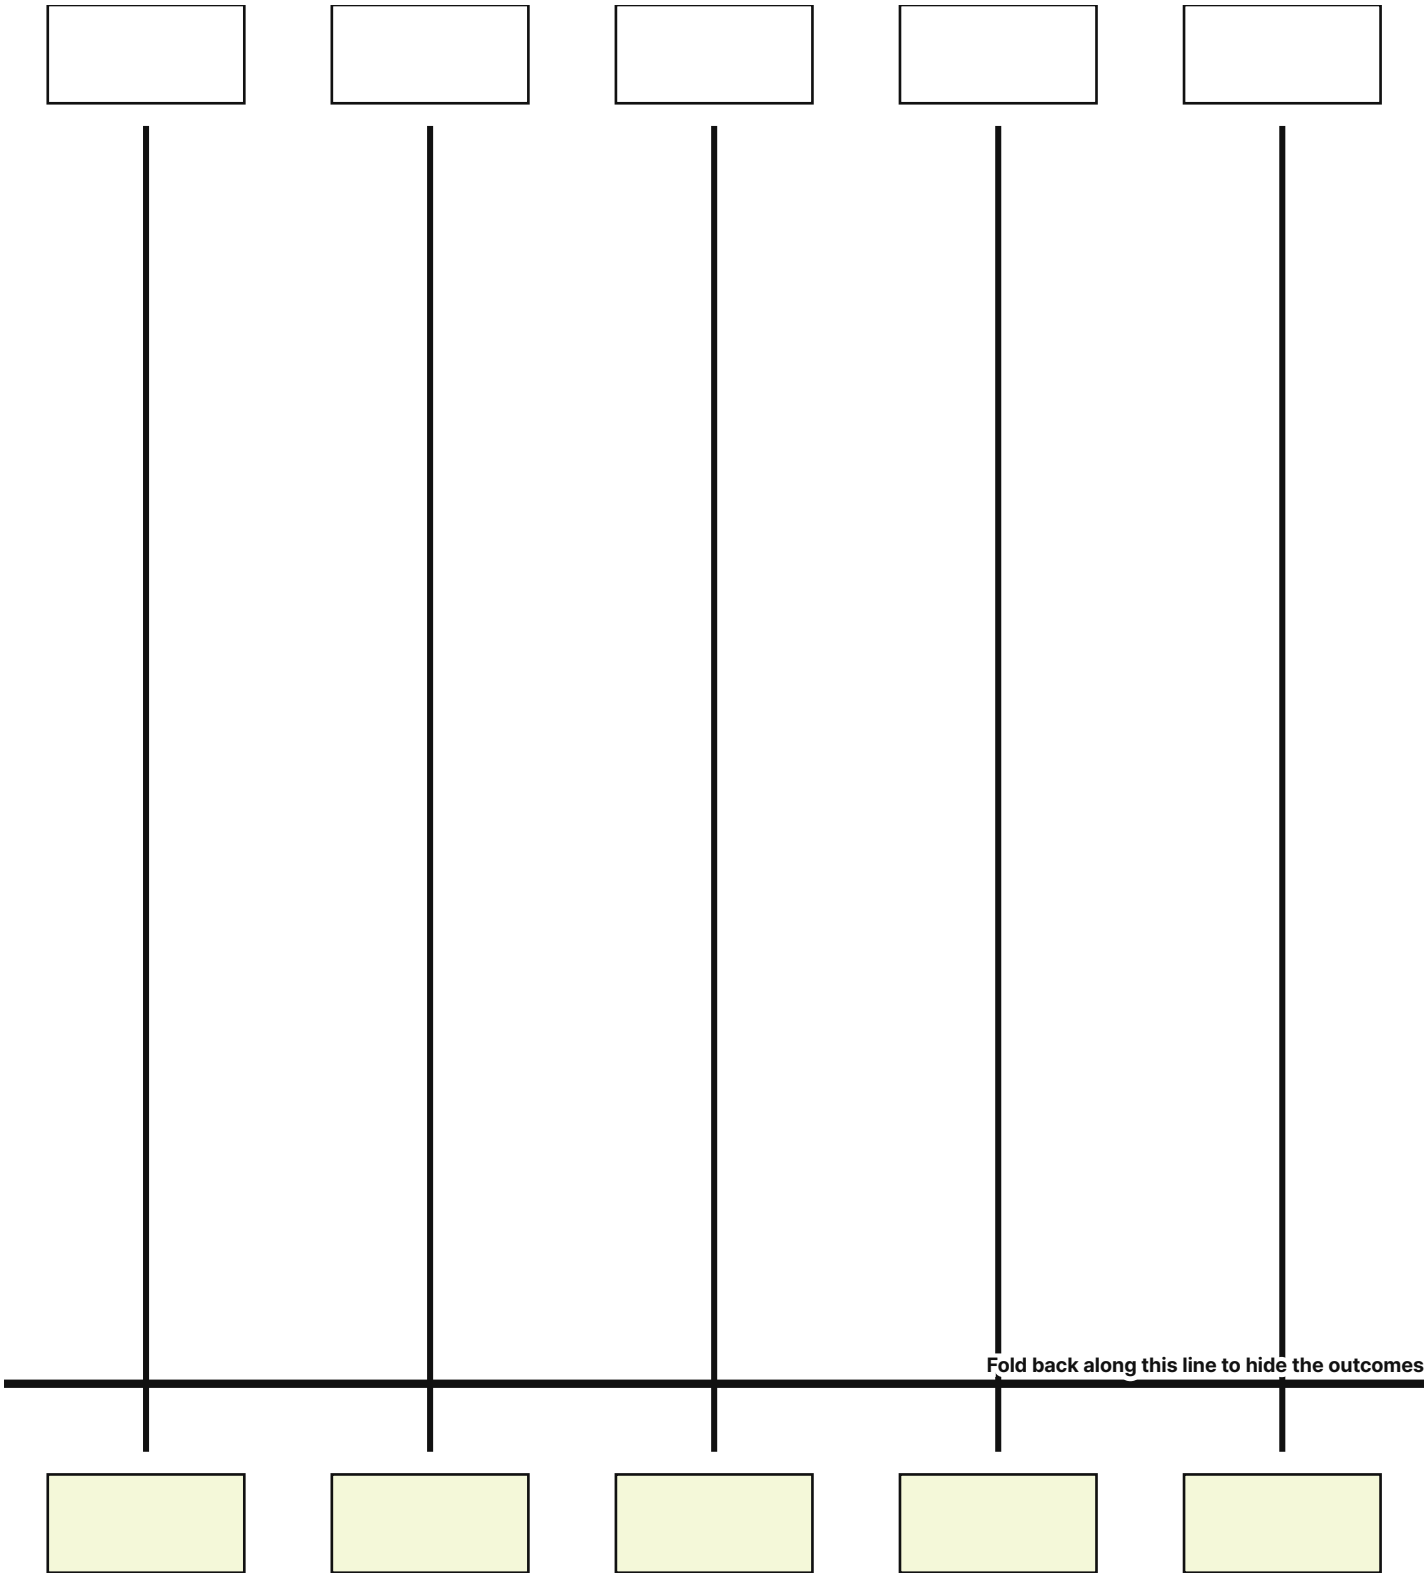

1. Write the outcomes in the bottom boxes and fold back along the thick line to hide them. 2. Write names in the top boxes. 3. Everyone except the person who wrote the outcomes takes turns drawing rungs: only between two neighboring lines, never at the same height as another rung touching the same line.

Draw plenty of rungs, a different number in each gap. Unfold only when everyone is done.

Write below the middle line, then fold in half along it. Fold every slip once more the same way so nobody can tell them apart by feel.
